JW MARRIOTT INDIANAPOLIS WEB SITE OFFERS VISITORS UNIQUE VIEWS OF IMPRESSIVE CONVENTION CENTER HOTEL DEVELOPMENT

INDIANAPOLIS – (October 11, 2008) - With construction well underway on the spectacular $425 million JW Marriott Indianapolis Complex, White Lodging and REI Real Estate Services are pleased to announce future hotel guests and the public can watch the development take shape online at the JW Marriott Indianapolis Web site: www.jwindy.com

Utilizing a webcam located on the roof of the nearby Indianapolis Marriott Downtown, online visitors will see a real time, aerial view of the seven acre construction site situated next to the White River State Park in downtown Indianapolis.

“The JW Marriott Indianapolis complex is progressing rapidly. It is exciting for visitors, including convention and meeting planners, as well as, future hotel guests across the country to watch the construction of one of the Midwest’s most significant economic development projects,” said Jeremy Stephenson, Vice President of Development, REI Real Estate Services.

The webcam image is updated approximately every 15 minutes and visitors are able to zoom in as construction moves forward on the 34-story JW Marriott Indianapolis. An additional feature allows viewers to watch a time-lapse movie of the construction which includes the JW Marriott Indianapolis, Indianapolis Courtyard by Marriott Downtown, Indianapolis Fairfield Inn & Suites by Marriott Downtown, and Indianapolis Springhill Suites by Marriott Downtown.

Visitors to the Web site can also view a video presentation showcasing the numerous amenities offered in the 1,626 room hotel development – including 104,000 square feet of meeting space and an enormous Grand Ballroom totaling 40,500 square feet. Floor plan layouts and downloadable fact sheets are also available at www.jwindy.com

“We are very pleased with the advance sales and we look forward to future customers utilizing our Web site as a resource to watch this tremendous hotel project come to life,” said Cory Chambers, JW Marriott Indianapolis Director of Sales and Marketing.

Construction on the massive hotel development is progressing on schedule and the JW Marriott Indianapolis Complex foundation takes shape on October 11, 2008 when 6,700 cubic yards of concrete is poured continuously for approximately 16 hours utilizing nearly 700 concrete mixer trucks. This is the largest hotel foundation concrete pour in Indianapolis history.
